TERP NOTES:

THE SERIES: Princeton leads the all-time series with Maryland 2-1 (there has also been one tie). This is the first meeting between the schools since 1984. The Terps beat the Tigers that season 1-0. Princeton's last victory over Maryland came in 1981 (2-0).

TIGERS TO WATCH: Junior forward Kirsty Hale leads the Ivy League in scoring with 12 goals and six assists (30 points). Senior midfielder Amy McFarlane, the 1996 Ivy League Player of the Year, ranks second on the team with nine goals and two assists (20 points).

MARYLAND SCORING LEADERS: Senior forward Lynsey McVicker leads the Terps in scoring with 37 points (10 goals and 17 assists). Senior forward Nadine Bennett leads the team with 17 goals, freshman forward Carla Tagliente has 15 goals and freshman back Marloes Platzek has 11. Junior midfielder Jen Pratt leads the Terps in assists with 23 (a school record for a single season).

TWO STRAIGHT SHUTOUTS: In last Friday's 4-0 victory over Rutgers, redshirt freshman Zoe Ehrlich posted her first career solo shutout. She made a critical save on a Rutgers penalty corner. On Sunday, senior golie Alana Eliwatt posted her 17th career solo shutout as the Terps beat Temple 3-0. Eliwatt has three solo shutouts this season.

ACC PLAYER OF THE WEEK: Senior forward Nadine Bennett was named last week's ACC Player of Week for scoring a goal in all three Terp victories. She has now scored at least one goal in the Terps' last seven games, breaking the school record for most consecutive games with at least one goal. The old record of six consecutive games was set earlier this season by teammate Marloes Platzek.

FIELD HOCKEY RULES

A field hockey match consists of two halves, of 35 minutes each. Each team has 11 players on the field at one time, one of which is a goalkeeper.

Each team is allowed an unlimited number of substitutions. Only two players from the same team may substitute into the game at one time.

The only time the clock stops is when a goal has been scored or the official calls time out or one of the teams calls time out.

The playing field is 100 yards by 60 yards, divided by a center line and a 25 yard line on each side of the field. Goals can only be scored by a team from within the 25 yard line. There is a 16 yard striking circle around each goal.

Players may only hit the ball with the flat side of their stick.

Infractions include advancing the ball with any part of one's body (the goalkeeper is exempt from this rule), dangerous use of the stick, hitting the ball in a manner which could lead to dangerous play and blocking a defended with the body. For a breach of rules, an umpire may award a free hit, penalty corner or penalty stroke.

Penalty corners are a major source of scoring opportunities. A penalty corner is a free hit by an offensive player from a point ten yeards from the goal. All offensive players must be behind the ten yard line before the ball is hit. A maximum of five defenders may be behind the goal line.

A penalty corner is awarded when the defending team commits an infraction within the striking circle.

A penalty stroke is awarded when the defending team commits an infractions which prevents a sure goal. When this is awarded, one player gets a shot from seven yards of the goal, with only the goalkeeper on the defending team trying to stop the shot.

Should the score remain tied at the end of 70 minutes, there will be two 15 minute sudden-death overtime periods. The first team to score wins the game.

Should the score remain tied at the end of overtime, a series of penalty strokes will be taken. Five players from each team shall take a penalty stroke against the same goalkeeper from the other team.

NEW RULE IN 1997: If a penalty cormer is awarded at the end of a half (or game), that penalty corner must be played out, even if time has expired.
